

A graph depicting EMX's cumulative expenses through life of company vs. all monies recovered from the reimbursement of exploration expenses from joint venture partners, sale of properties, periodic property payments, shares received as payment, appreciation of shares received, project management fees, etc. Overall, 73% of the company's total expenditures have been recovered.